Hallowe'en Dance Features Washing'ettes

On Hallowe'en, Tuesday, October 31st, the "Merry Washington-ettes" will furnish the music for a large student dance to be held in the gym at 8 o'clock, P. M. Getting off to a fine start with some talented new members as well as several new pieces, the dance orchestra is looking forward to a very successful season.

Making their radio debut over WFVA last Wednesday the group broadcast popular melodies for fifteen minutes on the play house program. The program was so successful that a similar one will be put on November 9th.

The Dance Orchestra is a comparatively new institution having been originated last year under the able direction of Ronald Faulkner who has been very instrumental in furthering music at Mary Washington.

Among special features of the orchestra are Kay Nelson, popular school vocalist and Ruth English whose speciality is her trombone solo, "I'm getting Sentimental Over You."

Following is a list of the members of the orchestra and their respective instruments:

Ruth Bailey, 1st saxophone; Betty Fleet, 2nd saxophone; Virginia Barnes, 3rd saxophone, Kathleen Critchett, trumpet; Ruth English, trombone; Addie Lee Barrett, bass; Betty Simmons, bass; Kathryn Nelson, drums; Marjorie May Clapp, drums; Deborah Goldstein, violin; Marjorie Seay, accordion; Ruth DeArmon, tenor saxophone.

December 9th Is Set As Date For First German

Now that the bids have been issued to the prospective members of the German club, the club's attention has turned to its first social function—a dance to be held on December 9. This dance will be presented in the new ballroom of George Washington hall.

All of the members of this organization will automatically attend the dance, and approximately one hundred other girls will receive bids for attendance. The entire program which the German club usually provides is a tea dance in the afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock; the formal dance that night, which ends at 12 o'clock; and a buffet supper that is given for all who attend the dance. The dance itself will be opened with a ring-fling lead by Margaret McCulloch, president of the club, followed by the club sponsor, Mrs. Bushnell, and the membership committee. The chaperones at this gala occasion will be made up of faculty members.

To top off this week-end, the majority of the couples spend the following day off campus in Washington, Richmond, or other nearby towns.

Department Head Honored At Tea

On October the twenty-fifth at the Home of Management House Miss Ella Harrison and Miss Maxine Morea gave a formal tea honoring Dr. Lillies D. Francis, the new head of the Home Economics Department.

Miss Morea greeted the guest at the door and presented them to Dr. Francis. Those who received with Dr. Francis were Miss Thelma Hall, Mrs. Dalia Ruff, Mrs. Eula P. Robins, Miss Annabel Merrill, Miss Sally B. Harrison and Miss Mary Alice Turman, all members of the Home Economics Staff.

Miss Ella Harrison invited the guests into the dining room. The color scheme of yellow and green was carried out in the use of the tea table Mrs. Charles Lake Bushnell presided. Miss Marguerite Tuck, Lida Heimer, and Miss Winnie Lenderman assisted in serving dainty tea accompaniments.

The guests included President and Mrs. M. L. Combs, Dean and Mrs. Alvey, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Woodword, Mrs. Nannie Mae Williams, Miss Lillie Turman, Mrs. Tyler, Mrs. Humphries, Mrs. Hugh Miller, Mrs. William Dickerson, Miss Jane McNally, Miss Henrietta Roberts, Mrs. Lucille Saunders and the Junior and Senior Home Economics Students.

Commercial Club To Have Guest Speaker

Miss Elizabeth Arden, New York beauty expert, will be the guest of the Commercial club on November 2. Miss Arden will speak on "Beauty Aids."

The talk will be given in the auditorium of Monroe Hall at 8 P. M., and there will be a small admission for all who are not members of the club.

Debate Club To Hold Tryouts

Try-outs for the Debate Panel will be held Wednesday, November 1, at five o'clock in Chandler 13. Try-out speeches will be limited to two minutes and may defend, attack, or analyze some phase of the national debate question.

At a meeting held last Wednesday ten students were present to discuss debating plans for the year and to receive instructions for the try-outs. They were: Alice Smith Bartow, May Chalfant, Elsie Mae Cornwell, Eva Catafygioti, Hazel Cantwell, Barbara Lewis, Ruth Miller, Sheila Sosin, Florence E. Whaley, and Jean Woolwine. Both Miss Catafygioti and Miss Cornwell were debaters at Mary Washington last year.

Students who did not meet at the organization meeting and who wish to win a place on the Debate Panel will be given an opportunity to speak at the try-outs, according to Dr. George Arms, chairman of the debating committee. He however suggested that they notify him or their intention before next Wednesday.

At least one long trip and participation in one tournament are planned as part of the debating activities this year. The debate question reads, RESOLVED: That the United States should follow a policy of strict (economic and military) isolation towards all nations outside the Western Hemisphere engaged in armed international or civil conflict.

Mildred Garner Winner In Horse Show

Mildred Garner, freshman from Newport News, Va., took first honors in the equitation class for students of Mary Washington college at the Snowden Farm Horse Show last Sunday.

Second place was won by Lois Brill from Winchester, Va.; third, Alice Bartow from Pennsylvania; fourth, Prentiss Vaughan from South Carolina.

"I was very thrilled to win first prize. It was unexpected because I had never before had much experience in riding forward seat," Mildred modestly stated. At home, she said, she used a gaited seat.

In her five years of riding Mildred, besides having taken part in several horse shows at home, at Woodland Farm, has also ridden at Hampton and Gloucester.

According to the Richmond News Leader, about 1000 visitors attended the show including the screen actor, Fredric March and his actress wife, Florence Eldridge.

The show given at Snowden Farm was an attempt to create a new interest in horses and horse shows, Mildred remarked.

Mildred's mount was "Ranger," owned by Miss Constance Moore, riding instructor here. Besides her blue ribbon she was also awarded a bracelet with a horse's head on it.

Pi Omega Pi Has First Meeting

The first regular meeting of Pi Omega Pi was held Tuesday, October 17. The plans for the year were discussed and the members hope that it will be the best year this chapter has ever realized on the hill. Four new members and one pledge were voted into the fraternity, Misses Sophia Eiseeman Dorothy Munden, Virginia Dare Dougherty, and the members the eligible members. Miss Ann Jones is the pledge who will become a member as soon as she has completed another quarter hour of Education. This group will be initiated at the next meeting.

Dr. Dodd was the speaker of the evening. He gave a most interesting and instructional talk on "Business Education in the Changing South."

Fredric March, Vacationing, Is Campus Visitor

Of special interest to Mary Washington was the visit of the popular movie actor, Fredric March and his wife, Florence Eldridge both of whom have recently completed theatrical engagements in New York, and are now vacationing in Virginia.

Those attending the horse show on Sunday probably saw a tall well-built man wearing a brown plaid suit, green hat, and horned-rimmed glasses; in the center of a lively group. On a nearby auto top was his wife, Mrs. March, engrossed in the show.

A real treat to any true theatre lover was afforded when Dr. Combs escorted Fredric March over our campus. The famous actor has paid a visit to the University of Virginia also and is now staying at the Farmington Club at Charlottesville.

Modern Dance Club Initiates Year's Work

At its regular meetings on Monday and Wednesday afternoons the Modern Dance Club is making a theatrical study of the Dance. The members are reporting on various authoritative books. Two chapters will be studied and presented to our readers each week. This week THE MODERN DANCE, by John Martin is being reviewed.

Virginia Wright gave a report on the first chapter and Jean Delaney on the second. According to these reports Martin, the country's foremost dance critic, states that dance as an art has been enormously slighted.

Modern dance is accused of having no power of beauty. The truth is that some people have no aesthetic response to modern dance. The chief aim is an expression of an inner compulsion. Movements mean nothing unless they cause the spectator to feel an inner responsiveness. Mary Wigman and Isadora Duncan were pioneers in this particular field.

At the Wednesday meeting Dr. Ritter showed the group moving pictures of a composition created by students of a West Orange, N. J. high school, former pupils of Miss Mildred Stuart, who is also the sponsor of our Mary Washington Modern Dance Club.

Seniors To Stage Beauty Contest

The senior class under the leadership of Ruth Cheshire, president, will sponsor a beauty contest on November 10th. This contest, the only one of its kind throughout the year is an annual affair and one of the major events on the school calendar. The seniors urge every club to be ready to choose their representative in the next week or two at the latest.

Watch the Bulletin for further details concerning this contest.

At the Y. W. devotionals this Sunday, Dr. Caverlee, pastor of the Fredericksburg Baptist Church will be guest speaker.

'Berkley Square' To Be Y. W. Benefit

Berkley Square, the Y. W. C. A. benefit play to be given November 18th, is well under way with Mr. Harold Weiss directing and assisted by Lee Wingate Keith, president of the dramatic club.

The play written by John L. Balderstan was first produced in England and later became a smash hit in New York and soared to even greater heights on the screen starring Leslie Howard.

The production of Berkley Square marks the theatrical opening of George Washington Hall. The group producing the play have had as their goal the staging of a play which will do justice to and be a credit to the beauty and dignity of the new theatre in which it is to be given.

Dr. Ritter will be in charge of the technical staff while Mary Lou Wilcox is handling the business end of the play.

The play itself is a costume one taking place for the most part in the 18th century.

As a new and eagerly anticipated feature faculty members will take the male roles. This new institution promises to add much favor and excitement to the entire production.

Levin Houston, popular instructor, musician, and composer will take the leading male role as Peter Stanlish. The supporting cast will consist of: Adelaide Roseborough, Dr. Vogelbach, Becky Eddlestone, June Stoll, Mr. Weiss, Dorothy Harrington, Mr. Donald Smith, Miss Scott, Marjorie Grant, Mr. Nicks, Miss Patch, Dr. C. Martin, Dr. Ritter.

Hallowe'en Haze: It Ain't What It Used To Be

The days of Hallowe'en are here again. Memories return of the times when we masqueraded as clowns or dashing Spaniards and danced in the streets, or helped the neighborhood boys play pranks.

We wonder how many upperclassmen remember the scare Mary Washington girls had on Hallowe'en week-end last year.

Having just returned from a week-end visit, we had settled ourselves in our room and roommate number one rushes in and asks if we have heard the bad news. This is followed by the rousing bit of information that the world is on fire. The fact that this was general news was evidenced by loud noises and sounds of confusion from the hall.

Roommate number two, comprehending this strange turn of affairs, goes into a state between hysteria and a faint. Out in the hall we find the phone booths crammed with people calling mother and daddy, who are probably, by now, pieces of charcoal. In the parlors dates cling to each other in this last few minutes. Presently some one bursts forth with the welcome news that it was only a play being broadcast on the radio.

Personally we hope there is no scare like this again. We much prefer to be frightened by the witches and goblins that fly through the night, or by the silhouette of a black cat, standing arched on a high fence.

EDITORIAL

One of the favorite dreams of many a young girl has been that of seeing herself a college Senior. Her dignity—her poise—her self-confidence—and above all, the attention and respect, and maybe even reverence of the lower classmen.

Sad as it may seem, this very last item seems to be almost non-existent here on the hill. The Seniors, sadly outnumbered, are rather pushed around, and oftentimes left in the background.

Granted that some of them do not look (and sometimes act) the part, still the yare at the top, and really would love to be treated accordingly.

So next time you underclassmen (especially you Freshmen) see a Senior going through a door (if you recognize her as such—and there are only 94) stand aside and let her go through first. And don't look down your nose when they speak to you. You should be pleased and even a little flattered that they've even bothered.

Call it humoring them, if you like, but with so few real Senior privileges, you don't know how much they'll appreciate it; but you will know when (and if) the times comes when you're one yourself.

Lucille Dekle asked Jane Day what time you have to be in after night riding. Even after freshman training they still think they can go night-riding. Let them just try it once and find out.

Frances Latane visited all the boys' school in Virginia in one day—quick work.

Sara Curtis gave Isabel Martin a teething ring because she is cutting her wisdom tooth.

Why did Ruth Kriegle join the Camera club? Could it be because Pete's hobby is cameras?

Ruth Bailey's boy friend brought her a cake when he came to see her. He said that he baked it himself! Could be.

Phyllis Rader doesn't seem to be doing so badly. She has two Archies. And one of them she doesn't take time to write to but just sends him a telegram.

Why hasn't some tall, dark and handsome youth found that delectable little brunette with sparkling eyes, namely one Glen Dow?

There was the freshman in Willard who complained that she hadn't any studying to do on Convocation night but she would the next night, so could she take her light cut then.

Why did Betty Fleet get so hot-up Saturday night? Could it be because a blonde with an up-do hair swing was doing a good job of entertaining HER date?

Patsy McCulloch has acquired a new interest in the same boy, namely one Edward.

"Did you know that Dovel had his name engraved on the honor plaque at school?" That is all Edie Lester can talk about. She tells her roommates about it every day.

Did any of you see that look in Virginia Barnes' eyes Sunday? Could it be love?

Specials are rolling in for Edith Beamer these days. Are they that important kind, Edith?

Jo Lyman says that a telephone call from Princeton is something to get excited about, and so Jo got excited.

Elizabeth Taylor seems very happy this week. She got the right kind of letter from HIM.

What's this springing up between Carolyn Moore and Buddy?

Barbara Apple was awfully excited when Roy came across with an invitation to Virginia openings—but who wouldn't be?

Did Ruth Scarlett's boy friend come all the way from West Virginia to see her? Well, Ruth, it must be love.

Eleanor Small is going home, all the way to Edenton, N. C., to see her true love this week-end.

Elizabeth Morrison is going home to Blackstone Saturday. What is in Blackstone besides home, Elizabeth?

Last week-end Lee Wingate Keith went to Hopewell to see her sister. When I asked her how she went, she said "Alone, on the bus." That was too bad, Lee Wingate, for we really expected that you would be accompanied.

And talking of last week-end, Margaret McCulloch went to Cleveland to see the Notre Dame-Navy game last Saturday. Whew! some time you had wasn't it, Margaret?

Richmond, as usual, is going to be alive with M. W. C girls this week-end, for Frances Frinmen, Martha Lee Bennett, Connie Hawthorne, Mary Etta Landrum and Jackie Edge are all leaving for that fair city. Martha Lee is going to the University Openings.

Kay Everhart spent all of last week-end, and even Monday at home. Monday was her birthday. Here's a late "Happy Birthday,"

Kay.
 Winnie Hudson is taking Rosalie Johnson home to Culpeper with her this week-end. Have a good time, gals.

Betty Flennikin is leaving us this week-end for the Navy-Clemson game at Annapolis.

Hallowe'en parties are calling many home and Dotty Vernon is going to Washington this week-end for a Baby Snooks party.

Randolph-Macon is calling Gail Smith to Ashland.

Guess what! Mary Estes is staying here this week-end!

Sophia Eisenman is going some place this week-end but she doesn't know where. All she knows is that she is going.

Mary Lou Wilcox is taking the other Mary L. Wilcox home to Richmond with her this week-end after the Navy-Clemson game Saturday.

Kitty Harner is another one going home to a spooky party.

Kitty Roberts is going to Norfolk this week-end just to have a genuine good time at home. Have fun, Kitty.

We'll bet Jane Adams' true love will be quite happy this week-end when Jane arrives in Charlottesville.

Carol Faulkner and Elsie Mae Cornwell have been singing "I'm Drifting Back to Dreamland" ever since they came back from Elsie Mae's last week-end. No kidding gals, it's really THE place.

Speaking of Dreamland, Fannie Lee Haynie, was there last Saturday night, and so was Mary Lee Pittman. Come on, gals, be pals and tell us about this place called Dreamland, 'cause the only time we ever get close to it is from 11 p. m. to 7 a. m.

Phyllis Thompson and Martha Tavener did up the V. M. I. game at Clifton Forge last week-end.

Somebody ought to tell Bar Gorges she can sleep just as well at home as at Roanoke. On second thought I can see her point of view.

After three years of discussing the weather and Sunday school with a certain individual, Mary Louise Early finally heard those

Choral Club To Have Benefit

At the first meeting of the Choral Club held on Thursday evening, Miss Eppes announced that a prominent baritone had accepted the invitation of the Choral Club and would be the guest artist on the Christmas Program. His name will be announced later.

The club is planning to hold a benefit on the 4th of December, at which time the Yale Puppeteers from New York will entertain. The proceeds from this program will be used to buy vestments for the group. The school colors, antique blue and white will be worn.

three little words, UNDERLINED. Nice going.

There is Tessie Sue in Betty Lewis, Apartment 27, who upon receiving two date cards at once asked, "do that all that come?"

Bunny Prunier had a swell time in Philly last week-end and she still thinks Bill is the sweetest one.

Arabelle Laws as usual is going to see Walter again this week-end. Arabelle, tell me, how do you manage to stay away from Walter for six whole days?

Mildred Fulton has to go home this week-end to see HIM 'cause she hasn't seen him for two whole weeks.

"Shot" Reynolds trucked up to V. P. I. last week-end and has been up in the clouds for the past week. Come on down to earth, Shot, Thanksgiving isn't so far away!

Martha Harrison and Kitty Hemley had such a good time in Richmond Saturday night at a frat dance—and did they get a rush?

Marion Burroughs is going to truck down to Mathews this week-end—(with Turner, to be sure!)

Evelyn Williams and Ralph have really got it bad, if letters and phone calls mean anything.

Congratulations to Marjorie Jones. The dentist says she's big enough to brush her own teeth now.

Jackie Copeland did her weekly to V. P. I. last week-end.

Will somebody tell us why Teslye Lou keeps writing "Darn Op!" on all her notebooks. That's odorous Tes.

What is this Sweetest Day for which Dotty Graf received seven pounds of candy last Saturday. Just an old Ohio custom?

Honey Henderson claims two new frat pins as a result of her last trip home. Somebody tell us HOW.

Rebecca Rice spent the week-end at her home in Washington, D. C.

Let's consider accessories. There are so many original students on the campus that I would like to tell you about the various things they have been making; just in case you haven't seen them.

One girl amazed a clerk in a feed store by asking him for "Chicken Rings." In case you do not know what they are, you put "Chicken Rings" on a chicken's leg. She proceeded to pick out well over a hundred in various colors. And this is how she made her necklace. As they open all she had to do was to pull them apart and hook two or three together until she had enough to go over her head. You may also link them together until you have about two yards and wrap the necklace around two or three times.

Summer is over now but I want to tell you about this necklace anyway. Collect about a half-pint of cantaloupe seeds, let them dry and then with an ordinary thread string them by sticking your needle through the seeds. It's easy to do. You will want well over a yard of these seeds to drape around several times. And speaking of seeds, the next time you are down town, why not stop at the feed store and get about a pint of corn. Yes, ordinary whole grains of yellow field corn. It is too hard to string but bring it home and soak it over night in water and next day you will find that you can string it without any trouble. How about acorns, pine cones or buttons. They do wonders toward pepping up a sweater, and they do look different.

I saw one necklace that had been made from a broom handle. The girl had sawed an old broom handle into disks about half an inch thick, bored a hole through and painted them bright colors with ordinary paint you would use on a house. Don't forget that all these things can be used for bracelets, also.

Fashion For The Week

Everyone seems to be excited about one dance or another and a dance means a smooth evening dress that is different. This is just a suggestion. Velvet is very smart this year and black is always smart so why not have a black velvet jacket coming down low below the waist in the front and the back into a rounded point. This will have to be lined part the way up so that it will keep its shape. Have very full sleeves but have them fit tightly just above the elbow. The neck is high in the back but quite low in the front and is fastened up the front with tiny brass buttons which are extremely smart. They will be worn on practically everything. For the skirt use yards and yards of creme taffeta. Skirts for evening are to be slim as well as full but for this frock a billowing skirt lends a more pleasing effect.

Highlights Of The Screen

If you haven't the time to keep posted as to the latest and best movies because of oodles of work—a few of them in brief are given you here.

You won't want to miss seeing "The Women", starring Norma Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford and Rosalind Russell. The story is based on the famous Broadway stage play by Clare Boothe. It deals with the inside lives of 135 women—and strangely enough it's all about men, with not a single male in the movie at all! There's comedy, love, seriousness and hate all mixed up together. Every girl will love it for its lovely clothes and the latest of hair dress—all to help one out.

Let's turn to the gay and musical side now—yes, no other than "Dancing Co-ed," starring the jitterbugs favorite, Artie Shaw, and his band. This is Artie's first appearance on the screen, and he's supported by Lana Turner, Ann Rutherford and Richard Carlson. The story has a college background, revolving around the desire of a Hollywood press agent

"Round The Dial"

C. E. S. has a new show, Young Man With A Band, and it's definitely going to click. How can it help but be a success with Jack Teagarden, Duke Ellington, Harry James, and Benny Goodman already signed to be guests on it? We think it is going to be even more popular than The Swing Club.

Fine interpretation of a brilliant arrangement makes Glen Miller's "In the Mood" his outstanding contribution for the month. Tommy Dorsey, the one really big name leader who never relaxes the standards of his music, is entertaining as ever on the glowing "Val Vister Sally Star."

For the disc, Ziggy Elman toots a terrific trumpet for Victor, "You Took Advantage of Me" and "I'm Yours." The Smoothies, very popular trio on the Hal Kemp show, wax another Victor disc with the tune "It's Funny To Everyone But Me." Jack Teagarden hits the jackpot on Columbia with "Wanna Hat With Cherries," and "I'm Taking My Time With You."

Be sure to listen to Jimmy Dorsey, for his versatility in style, arrangement, and rendition. His vocalist, Bob Eberly, is really sweet-voiced on "Lilacs In the Rain" and "My Prayer."

A newcomer to the air is Tommy Reynolds and his "Band of Tomorrow." His saxes are sweet and he has some unique arrangements.

That's about all we can think of this 'round, but say—could anybody tell us if and when "Moon River" comes on these nights?

to place a pretty vaudeville dancer, Lana Turner, in a college, so that she might win a national contest for the best dancing co-ed—from which she'll play the lead in a motion picture, and thus get plenty of publicity. The dancer falls in love with a college editor, who has her kidnaped when he finds out her actual identity. Ann Rutherford portrays a studio secretary who accompanies the dancer to college to see that she passes exams, wins the contest, and becomes a star. There's a whirl of excitement, romance, and swing in "Dancing Co-ed."

Incidentally, you'll have that chance to see "The Women" this coming week at the Victoria theatre, and it promises to be "real-ly" good!

This week our spotlight turns to Marguerite Jennings. Marguerite is a junior here on the hill and was elected Freshman Commissioner for this year. All that know her give her an excellent name.

In the world of sports, Marguerite's favorite is golf. Her hobbies are collecting poetry and penguin pins and reading biographies. Her favorite aversions are perfumes and brick walks.

Activities on her list include membership on the Bullet staff, in the International Relations club, Alpha Phi Sigma and the Y. W. C. A., of which she is vice-president.

Current Fashions At

By Cary Billingsley

Hello again? How are you all getting along? I'm hoping that English Survey and those typing budgets haven't gotten the best of you this past week. If not (and if so) let's go to a subject liked by all college girls.

"Two-eds" Sing the Snow Birds!
Tweed is no long something to wear when you want to look rugged. It's something to wear when you want to look very 'fctchin', and you'll stop at The Vogue, you'll see what I mean! They have a new collection of casual tweed coats, fitted or boxy, that'll make your mouth water! The price tags are so small you can practically ignore them.

Did You Know?

It's possible to buy CURVE CONTROL? If that college routine is making you put on pounds, in the wrong places, now is the time to do something about it. You can acquire the small-waisted, gently rounded-hipped silhouette this fall's clothes were styled for without that harnessed feeling! We'll slenderize your hips and waist with one of our light-weight pantie or two way stretch girdles. They'll do the trick!

College Is A Strain on Stockings!

There's no doubt about it. After lots of trials we've found ONE kind of stocking that can really take it! Believe-you-me they're our pride and joy. They are called MOJUD THIGH-MOLDS because of the molding, flexing action of their four magic strips in the hem. These strips absorb strain, check garter runs, hold garters firmly and keep seams straight—four functions that add miles of wear to your stockings and subtract strain from your budget! By the way; LIFE gave these stocking a write-up in one of their summer issues.

For 'Tots' In Teens!

Are you one of those girls who are very slight in figure and height yet of college age? Well, The Vogue Shop has one of it's specialties Junior Sizes. These dresses run as small as size nine up to seventeen. Any petite miss who can wear these adorable dresses is to be envied. As you smaller girls already have found out these sizes are not so very easy to find in all stores.

I am sincere in hoping this little informal chat will be serviceable to all of you girls. If there is ever anything special you would like me to have in this column, just call me at 279 or drop me a line—at The Vogue Shoppe. How about a fashion show during dinner one night?

Sophomores Win

The Sophomores downed the Seniors to the tune of three to one in a fast and furious game of hockey on the field last Thursday afternoon.

No score was made until the second half when the sophomores rang up their three points. The seniors tried desperately to keep up but were able to score only once. This point was made by Jean McCaffrey in a brilliant play during the last few minutes of the game.

The upper classmen were seriously handicapped as two of their best players, Ann Smith and Jo Inskip, were injured and had to be carried off the field. The three points, which enabled the sophomores to carry off the game, were made by Becky Buckingham and Jeanetta Penny.

A game played by the Sophomores and Juniors on Tuesday resulted in a tie but the Juniors lost the game because of default.

Swimming Club

The Swimming club of M. W. C. began its work for the school year with a meeting Monday, October 23, called for the new members just entering the club.

These new members were informed that they are to present a pop program Saturday night, October 28, in the town girls' room, after which will follow a party for the club.

On Tuesday afternoon, October 24, the old members met and elected Mary Stevens as chairman of the refreshment committee for the party.

Dorothy Graf, the president, announced that attendance has been made compulsory, but two cuts would be allowed. Thus, girls missing more than two meetings must be dropped from the club. The girls plans to meet one night a week to swim in the pool. The definite night has not as yet been decided, but they will set the time for either Thursday or Friday evening.

The list of the new members is as follows: Mary Lee Hug, Mary Brosins, Marjorie Jones, Hollis Pope, Anne F. Martin, Lois Brill, Betty Trinkleback, Margaret Walden, Hilda Holloway, Lois Rosenbaum, Constance Hill, Ruth Vanderhoof, Joanne Simpson, Beulah Newsome, Claire Moore, Sylvia Irvin, Jean Alliere, Peggy Moran, Georgia Christie, Edith Allen Testen, Ruth Miller, Barbara Johnson, Lucy Dickinson, Diana Patch, Elinor Mather, Connie Ferebee, Mickey Cromer, and Virginia Steinback.

Miss Spiesman was chosen by the members to serve as sponsor of the Swimming club.
